PROJECTS:

Auto Lingo - Full Stack Developer - (https://autolingo.herokuapp.com/)   Feb 2017
- A web application that allows users of different languages to speak over a live video chat, or a text only chat room. Words spoken by each user are transcribed into text, translated, then displayed on the other user's screen, in the language the user selected.
- Built with Node.js, Express.js, React.js, Redux, and Socket.io.
- Technologies used: Web RTC to render video and audio, Web Speech API to transcribe speech to text, and Google Translation API to translate text.
- Integrated text-to-speech with the UI, and chat rooms with Redux actions and reducers.
- Created and contributed to various React.js components.

Navi - Full Stack Developer - (https://github.com/sean-r-martin/navi)   Jan 2017
- A web application for finding information about upcoming events around New York City. Event information is integrated with the Google Maps API, to render indicators on the map for each event location.
- Built with Node.js, Express.js, React.js and Redux.
- Designed the website layout via React.js components, and integrated the eventful.com API and the NYC Developer Portal API, to query for event information.

STEM Toyz - Full Stack Developer - (https://github.com/sean-r-martin/STEM-Toyz)   Jan 2017
- An e-commerce web application focused on selling toys related to science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM).
- Built with Node.js, Express.js, React.js, Redux, Sequelize and PostgreSQL.
- Programed Express.js routes, PostgreSQL database models, test for backend routes and models, Redux actions and reducers, and React.js components.
